Kelley's Grand North American Prize Concert.

On Saturday evening, the 26th inst., the drawing for prizes, in Kelley's Grand North American Prize Concert, takes place, at the Wabash Avenue Rink. The sale of tickets during the last few weeks has been immense, and the entire number, half a million in all, is nearly exhausted. Those who wish to secure a chance in this enterprse,—one that has never fallen under the suspicions which have at last ruined others of the kind,—will be obliged to speak and act, or write quickly. Mr. Kelley continues to offer the same terms which have been obtained heretofore in the sale of tickets—single tickets $1; five tickets for $4,50 and ten tickets for $9. Of the whole number of tickets (500,000,) every one draws a prize, the highest one being $30,000, and the amount of greenbacks alone to be distributed amounting to $100,000. An extra force of clerks has been put on within the last few weeks and the demand for clerical help is constantly increasing. Orders mailed in any part of the east and north by Thursday night will reach Chicago in time to be filled and mailed before the drawing commences. Persons sending orders will address A. A. Kelley & Company, No. 105 Randolph street, Chicago,—Chicago Times.

DEATH OF NATHANIEL P. WILLIS.

Another of America's gifted sons has passed away. A telegram received last night and published elsewhere, announces the death, from paralysis, of the great poet, scholar, author and traveler, Nathaniel P. Willis. His death was not unexpected. He had been ill for a long time past at his residence at Idlewild, on the Hudson river, near Newburg, New York, and few thought he could have lasted so long, as his system had been worn down from excessive study and literary application. He was born in Portland, Maine, January 20th, 1807, last Sunday being the anniversary of his birth. He graduated with full honors at Yale College, in 1827. During his collegiate life he published his first poem and even before he had quitted the class-room he had made for himself quite an enviable literary reputation, having received a prize offered by the publisher of an illustrated annual.

After graduating, not yet having completed his twentieth year, he was employed by "Peter Parley" as editor of "The Legendary" and "The Token," a position he retained but one year, after which he embarked in the publication of the "American Monthly Magazine." This journal was short-lived, and in a few years was merged into the "New York Mirror," which was published by the lamented George P. Morris, whose life was afterwards so interwoven with that of the deceased. Tiring of this life he became a traveler and visited different portions of the Old Continent, and in his correspondence to the "Mirror" displayed his wonderful descriptive powers and gained for himself a reputation at home and in the best circles of foreign society. He married the daughter of an English military officer in 1835, and during his stay there published several volumes which proved very popular and were re-published in this country.

In 1837 he returned to America, and two years later became one of the editors of the "Corsair," a literary journal published in New York. In 1840 he re-visited England where, among other literary productions, he published two dramas, which were not very successful. In 1844 he returned to America, and entering into partnership with Mr. Morris, established the "Evening Mirror," a short time after which, his wife died, and his own health gave way to over taxation of his mental powers, and he returned to Europe, where he again became a contributor to the popular magazines. In 1846 he returned and published a complete edition of his works in New York, which had ready and rapid sales. The same year he was married to a daughter of Hon James Grinnell, of Massachusetts. About this time he again entered into partnership with Mr. Morris and established the Home Journal, which yet lives as the organ of the bon ton of the country. The deceased died in good worldly circumstances, and his works will live long to keep his name fresh in the memory of the people.

THE MARYLAND ELECTION.

Mr. WARD, of New York, asked leave to offer the following:

WHEREAS, By the laws of the State of Maryland, persons who were disloyal to the government of the United States, or gave aid or encouragement to the recent rebellion, are deprived of the elective franchise; and

WHEREAS, It is alleged that at the last election in the State of Maryland, a large number of the persons disqualified, as aforesaid, did vote for representatives of the fortieth Congress, and other officers; and

WHEREAS, It is further alleged that the armed forces of the United States were ordered by the Federal authorities to and did co-operate with the Executive authority of the State of Maryland, and others who were engaged with them in over-riding the Constitution and laws as aforesaid, and securing the vote of rebels and persons disqualified, as aforesaid; and whereby qualified and loyal voters of Maryland were deterred from the free exercise of the elective franchise and from resisting and preventing the violation of the Constitution and laws aforesaid; therefore

Resolved, That the Committee of Elections shall inquire into and report whether the Constitution and the laws have been violated as aforesaid, and whether the President or any one under his command has in any manner interfered with said elections, and has in any way used or threatened to use the military power of the nation with reference to said elections; and if so, whether it was upon the requisition of the Governor of Maryland; and the said Committee shall have power to send for persons and papers.

After discussion, the resolution was adopted—103 against 35.

MR. STEVENS' RECONSTRUCTION BILL.

The House proceeded to the discussion of Mr. Stevens' reconstruction bill, and was addressed by Mr. KERR in opposition, and Mr. HIGBY in support of the bill. The former sustained the President's policy in reference to the establishing of State governments in the South.

Recess until half past one o'clock.

DEBATE ON THE RECONSTRUCTION QUESTION

Evening Session.—Mr. TRIMBLE spoke against the reconstruction bill as a bill of attainder and an expost facto law.

Mr. DODGE, of New York, opposed the bill. He differed entirely from the general sentiment on the Republican side of the House, thinking himself Congress had already committed itself against the view that the States recently in rebellion were not States in the Union. He had failed to find in either Stevens' or Ashley's bill the first thing that promised peace, conciliation or harmony. He also deprecated the impeachment of the President.

Mr. HISE, of Kentucky, made an argument against the bill. He declared himself opposed to giving any substantial cause for revolution and resistance. His opinion was, there never had been a State out of the Union, and that none but States could govern or be governed by the Congress of the United States. Power was primary and full to admit States into the Union, but there was no power conferred upon Congress or reserved by the States to expel or to take a State out. The details of the bill to show that it contemplated the establishment of a despotism in the South—a despotism in a country where nothing but free representative government had ever existed or could ever exist. He contended that not for a moment was the representative rights of the Southern States ever destroyed.

The House adjourned.

FROM MISSOURI.

Trouble Again at Lexington—State Troops Stationed There—Business Suspended and Merchants Alarmed.

NEW YORK, January 21.—The Herald's Lexington, Missouri, correspondent says: The excitement here has been again revived by the arrival of two companies of Governor Fletcher's militia; the bushwhackers had entirely disappeared. Major Montgomery was arrested on the 12th by the United States Marshal and taken to Jefferson City, where he was released on a writ of habeas corpus. Business is almost entirely suspended in Lexington, owing to the presence of troops, who exercised a kind of terrorism over the main body of the citizens.

Steamer Mexico Burned—The Fire Yesterday Morning.

ST. LOUIS, January 21.—The steamer Mexico, lying at the Arsenal, was burned last night. Valued at $10,000; insured for $1,000.

Another fire at about three o'clock this morning burned the Bon Ton Saloon, Tivoli beer house and billiard room, and the tailor shop of John Schillman. Total loss about $40,000; partially insured.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

Shipments of Wheat and Flour from California—Imports at San Francisco—From Idaho.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—The ship Isaac James cleared to-day for New York with a full cargo of wheat. The Forget-Me-Not, also loaded with wheat, cleared for Cork.

The brig Virginia, from Rio de Janeiro yesterday, brings 500,000 pounds of coffee.

The duties for the past week amounted to $119,000; total since 1st January, $254,000.

Flour is quoted at $6,25 for extra; $5,75 for superfine. Wheat, $1,70@1,80 per 100 lbs.; the latter figure for choice milling. About 8,000 barrels of flour was already engaged for shipment East by the next Panama steamer.

The Idaho Statesman, says: Hewlett, Secretary of the Territory, has received telegrams from Secretary McCulloch, prohibiting him paying members of the Legislature until they take the oath of allegiance required by the law. The members manifested great indignation. The opinion among the majority is, that the dispatch is bogus. It appears that Howlett telegraphed to Washington for instructions, and received the above answer.

The Governor of Idaho vetoed the bill appropriating $30,000 to support the Catholic schools.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Trouble Between Freedmen and Federal Troops—The Negroes Resist an Attempt to Eject Them from a Plantation.

NEW YORK, January 21.—The Tribune has the following dispatch from Savannah, giving further particulars concerning the trouble opposite that city: A collision is likely to occur between the freedmen and United States forces, growing out of an attempt to eject the negroes from a plantation on the Chevis estate in South Carolina, opposite Savannah. They refused either to leave the plantation, or contract for the present year. Pursuant to orders from Gen. Tilson, one commissioned officer and fifty men proceeded to the plantation and were met by about three hundred negroes, all armed. A conflict was only prevented by a temporary compromise.

Captain Brandt telegraphed to General Scott, Commissioner, that it was impossible to eject the negroes, and asked permission to detail a company of the Sixth Infantry, en route to Charleston, to assist the troops sent over by General Tilson, who are still on the plantation.

FROM TEXAS.

General Kiddoo's Tour Through the State—The Negroes Contented and at Work.

GALVESTON, Jan. 21.—Cotton is quiet; low middling 23c in specie.

Gen. Kiddoo and staff have returned from an extensive tour through the State. They represent the negroes everywhere contracting and getting to work preparing for the years' crops, and that there are not laborers enough to till the soil.

Kentucky U. S. Senator.

FRANKFORT, KY., January 21.—There were two Senatorial ballots to-day. In the last Powell had 39 votes; Harding 46; and Bristow 38.

Garrett Davis by letter withdrew his name, assigning as a reason his desire taht Kentucky should be speedily represented in the United States Senate.

Kansas U. S. Senator.

TOPEKA, KANSAS, January 21.—The re-election of Senator Pomeroy is now generally conceded. The balloting commences tomorrow. He has had to contend against very strong opposition, the local and moneyed interests having combined to defeat him. The contest to fill the vacancy for the short term is uncertain.

Aid to Railroads in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 21.—The popular vote on Saturday is not all in, but at present there is about 400 majority in favor of granting the credit of the city on a million dollars for the extension of the Lebanon Branch Railroad towards Knoxville to the State Line.

Horrible Murder in Maine.

LEWISTON, ME., January 21.—Two old ladies named Kinney and Casswell were murdered in their own house, two miles from here, on Thursday night last. A man named Johnson has been arrested on suspicion.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Book Store Robbery—Recovery of Some of the Stolen Property.

We have already mentioned the fact that the book and periodical depot of Mr. James Aiken, in the Chronicle building, on Fifth street, was entered on Tuesday night last and robbed of various articles to a considerable amount. Among the articles taken were a number of albums, pocket-books, pocket-knives, work-boxes, gold pens, &c., besides two vests and a pair of pantaloons belonging to Mr. Aiken, a coat belonging to Mr. Siebenick, of the Chronicle, and some other articles of clothing. Officers Cupples and Dressler were immediately set to work to discover and arrest the thieves, if possible. The two Rigbys and young Bayne, charged with the larceny of the GAZETTE files, were among the suspected, and this was one of the charges on which they were arrested. In addition to them was another boy named Murdock, together with one Michael Datt. These parties were all arrested the next day and locked up, Datt being required principally as a witness. He asserted that he was in the Chronicle building at the time and saw the suspicious movements on the part of the others. Immediate and diligent search for the stolen property was made by the officers mentioned, but without definite success until last evening. Circumstances led the officers to believe that the property had never been removed from the premises, and that it was concealed in the building. Accordingly officer Dressler, at about seven o'clock last evening, proceeded to the premises and instituted the most rigid search. Removing some of the boards from the cellar floor he discovered that the earth underneath had been disturbed. Continuing his investigations and removing the earth, he found a piece of coffee sack carefully wrapped up. Within the sack was a paper parcel, which was found to contain nine new pocketbooks, six new pocket knives, two photograph albums, one large sized, elegantly finished work box, one work box of smaller size, one dollar in scrip, and fifteen coppers. In addition to these articles, all stolen from Mr. Aiken, there was in the paper, a beautiful silver porte monaie, belonging to Miss Susie Summerfield, and recently stolen from the Theatre. Besides these articles a pair of pants was found in close proximity to them. At a later hour officers Cupples and Dressler renewed the search in company, and found the two vests and the trousers belonging to Mr. Aiken and the coat stolen from Mr. Siebenick. They also found three small pocket knives and another pocketbook. The prisoners will probably have a hearing to-day. The officers who have charge of the case deserve great credit for the skillful and industrious manner in which they have conducted it.

The Estey Cottage Organs

Have been before the public for more than twenty years, and from a small beginning have steadily increased and improved their manufacturing facilities, notwithstanding the entire destruction of the establishment by fire in 1857, and again in 1864, until they are now finishing some two hundred instruments per month.

This vast amount of patronage has been secured more by the actual merits of the instrument than by extensive advertising and the pretentious parade of their wares before the public. Mr. Estey has employed and retained, from the first, some of the finest mechanics and inventors of the age, and has adopted and patented more valuable improvements than any other manufacturer of Organs in the land. As the result his instruments stand unrivalled by any thing in this country or in Europe, as is admitted by all impartial judges. The most eminent Pipe Organ builders performers—the last to discover the excellence in reed tones—pronounce them vastly superior to all others.

The Agents—Messrs. Barr, Knake and Buettler, No. 12 St. Clair street, are constantly receiving new lots of the above, which they are selling at reduced prices.

THE THIRD WARD TRAGEDY.

Finding of the Remains of James Young—Coroner's Inquest.

The worst surmises concerning the fate of James Young, the boy who was known to be in the office of Mr. McKelvy's feed store, which was burned on Sunday morning, are proved to have been correct. Yesterday morning, the workmen engaged in clearing away the rubbish of the burned building, found the charred remains of the unfortunate youth buried under the debris, some seven or eight feet away from the rear door of the office. The body presented a most shocking appearance, the head, arms, and entire upper portion of the body being wholly gone, and the remaining portions being charred to blackness.

The deceased was about eighteen years of age, and served three years in the army during the late war. He was not permanently employed by Mr. McKelvy, it appears, and had no settled abiding place hereabouts, and not even a place of refuge for one night, though, as we are informed, he has many relatives, and some of them wealthy ones, residing in the city. As we stated yesterday, he was an orphan. He was born, we believe, in Pittsburgh, and seems to have been well known in the vicinity where he met his horrible doom.

Coroner Clawson was summoned and empannelled a jury, before whom testimony was taken yesterday afternoon, at the office of Alderman Butler, on Wylie street. Below we give the testimony as far as taken:

John Harkins, sworn—Live in Poplar alley, Third ward. On Saturday deceased was working at M'Kelvy's. At bed time he was desired to go out, but said he had no place to go, and he was allowed to remain. We left him at about nine o'clock, and when we left we told him not to keep any fire. I passed the place at about eleven o'clock, and saw no light or smoke there. I belong at the stable. When I came back the fire was at the window near Wright's. I went to the office window when I saw the light and took the shutter off, and reached in and took out the books. The young man was locked up there. He could have come out by the window, and also by the back door. Mr. M'Kelvy had the key. The books were in the desk near the window. When I took them out I did not think about the boy being in the office. The stove was about seven or eight feet from the door. There was a little fire in it when we left at nine o'clock.

James Callin sworn—Live on Washington street; I found the boy this morning back of the office; we commenced to shovel the rubbish away; when near the oats I felt something; I examined, and pulled out a bone—and after pulling out the shovel I saw a piece of shirt; this was in the second binn; I was there probably about three o'clock, shortly after the fire broke out; only part of the body was found; we did not find the head or the bones of the arms.

John McCoy, sworn—Live on Washington street; this morning was working at the corn in the ruins when the body was found; was there Sunday morning, about a quarter of an hour after the fire broke out; heard the horses neigh; the stable door was broken open; when I went there the fire was coming out of the hay-loft; the body was found to-day about fifteen feet from the office door; saw the boy between seven and eight o'clock on Saturday evening; asked him where he was going to stay; he said he did not know; he had no place to stay.

Charles O'Donnell sworn—Live on High street; was present at the finding of the body. (Witness related the facts of the finding.) I was working about there on Sunday night and Monday morning; was acquainted with Young; was up about there on Saturday evening; didn't see him.

Peter Magee, sworn—Live at the corner of Washington and Wylie streets. Keep a saloon there. My wife called me up, saying that there was a fire. Looked out of the window and saw the blaze of the stable. Called out fire, and then heard the watchman cry also. The fire was then in McKelvy's hay loft, in the stable. Think it was before three o'clock when I knew of it. Saw no one when I looked out. Young was not in my house Saturday night that I know of.

Wm. Henry, sworn—Live in the Seventh ward. Was working out on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Between eleven and twelve o'clock I came up Seventh street; went into O'Day's and got a drink; saw nothing wrong; came up and stopped at the corner of Washington street; then went home. John Toner was with me. The men who were with me left me at Elm street.

Isaac W. McIlvane, sworn—Am watchman on the beat above where the fire was. About ten minutes past three I heard some one walking. Looked out and saw the light; ran down to the alarm box No. 35; saw no one round; gave the signal; then I met the other watchman. It appeared to be a long time before the bell sounded the signal. It was so long that I rapped my mace and cried fire. We then ran down to the fire; persons came out and attempted to get the horses out. One man was nearly suffocated. We got three horses out with great difficulty. Searight, the watchman, was the first person I saw; when I first saw the fire it appeared to be in the back part of the stable, off Beech alley.

At this point the testimony was suspended, and the inquest adjourned to be resumed at two o'clock this afternoon at the same office.

Explosive Oils.

Some time since Mrs. Chas. Bendon, of Lebanon, Ohio, was burned to death by her clothing taking fire by the bursting of a lamp filled with refined oil. A portion of the oil was afterwards sent to Pittsburgh, when it was ascertained that it could not withstand a fire test of eighty-six degrees, and more dangerous than benzole or gasoline. It is understood that the oil had been purchased at Cleveland. This is another example of the necessity of having all oils inspected by a competent man, and the proposed general law making it a penal offense to sell burning oils under the standard of one hundred and ten degrees cannot be passed too soon.

Who's in Luck.—The Crosby Opera House lottery took place yesterday, and we publish in our telegraph columns the result. A German saloon keeper of Chicago was the lucky individual who drew the house. The fellows in charge arranged admirably, giving no stranger an opportunity of carrying away the mammoth structure from their city. A great many tickets were sold here, and possibly some of our readers may hold lucky numbers.

John G. Saxe, To-night.—John G. Saxe, the poet lecturer, lectured last evening at Wheeling, and will be sure to be here to-night to fulfil his engagement at the Academy of Music. The impression generally prevailed yesterday, that Mr. Saxe was in Buffalo, and hence would not be able to reach here in season. The above statement will correct that impression and set all apprehensions at rest.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1867.

MR. GRATZ BROWN yesterday opened a movement which has been generally anticipated. He introduced a bill to authorize the Company building the Eastern Division of the Union Pacific Railroad to go through to the Western coast by an independent line, on the same conditions as the Company constructing the original line. If the bill shall pass, as we think it will, there will be two distinct railroads spanning the Continent.

THE tariff bill introduced into the Senate by Mr. Fessenden, contains a clause forbidding the importation of fire-crackers; and whatever bill passes, this provision will no doubt be one of its features. This seemingly trivial subject is one of the greatest importance, as the terrible fire which nearly destroyed the city of Portland, Maine, last summer, originated from the explosion of a fire-cracker; and Senator Fessenden, whose home is in that city, deserves the thanks of the country for taking measures to profit by the lesson, and provide against similar calamities in future.

THE TARIFF.

Not least among the mistakes made by Congress is that of deferring definite action on the Tariff till so near the close of the session, as to prevent a just and necessary conclusion. The importation of foreign wares and fabrics has reached such gigantic dimensions as not only to be seriously prejudicial to domestic industry, but to render insecure the basis of commercial solvency. Our people are not paying, and cannot pay, in a legitimate way—that is, in the way of fair mercantile exchanges—for the goods brought in and sold. They are simply running into debt, and at a frightful rate. The grain crop of the past season, while sufficient for our own consumption, did not yield much to spare, even if European countries had offered a market. Cotton, which in former times constituted the great staple for liquidating foreign balances, did not rise to half the ordinary value. As fast as gold is mined, it is sent abroad, making a resumption of specie payments here more distant and difficult, if not altogether impossible. The remaining balances, so far as they are paid at all, are paid in government and corporate bonds, that is, one form of indebtedness is substituted for another; and, as the interest on these must be paid in coin, this aggravates the evils of an irredeemable paper currency, and sends still farther into the future the hope of resumption. If the end shall be a general stagnation of manufacturing industry, as now seems most probable, a political as well as a financial crisis will be precipitated, the full results of which it is not easy to prognosticate.

By this time the manufacturers doubtless see the blunder they committed last winter in resisting a rapid descent to specie bottom. In consequence the continued appreciation of gold has, very nearly, if not quite, neutralized the diminution of excise duties. Nor is this all, nor the worst of it. This lessening of the excise, counterbalanced by the inflation of the paper currency, is made the pretext or excuse not simply for refusing to raise the Impost duties, but for creating a clamor against the pretended rapacity of the manufacturing interest.

Free Traders may speculate as they will, but so long as Capital and Labor are essentially dearer in this country than in Europe, diversified manufacturing industry can maintain a foothold here only through sufficient impost duties. The problem is a perfectly simple one. The farmer whose lands cost him one thousand dollars an acre and who has to pay two dollars a day for labor, cannot compete successfully with the farmer who has equally productive lands at twenty dollars an acre and proper help at twelve dollars a month. It is precisely so with all branches of mechanical and manufacturing employment. The blacksmith or shoemaker who can obtain material and labor at considerable less rates than his immediate competitors, can surely drive them out of the market. The case is not essentially altered in that the competitors of our manufacturers are on the other side of the Atlantic. The difference is simply in the matter of transportation, which every practical man knows is not at all sufficient at this time to adjust the discrepancy between the price of Labor and Capital here and there.

It is simply impertinent to say our people must abandon the higher forms of skilled industry, and resort to the lower. This is but another way of demanding that we make a march backward toward Barbarism. This nation has no knowledge it can afford to unlearn or forget; no arts of civilized life it ought to abandon and repudiate. In diversities of soil and climate; of agricultural and mineral resources; we include all the advantages within our own borders, which elsewhere can be found only in many kingdoms; an indication not to be misinterpreted that Providence designed here to organize the last and highest type of civilization, and to advance humanity to its most transcendant destiny.

INSTRUCTIONS.

The Legislature of Wisconsin, by the emphatic vote of seventy-three to twenty-one, have adopted a resolution instructing Mr. DOOLITTLE, one of the federal Senators for that State, to resign. As an expression of the dissatisfaction of the loyal people of Wisconsin at the unworthy conduct of the Senator, and their unfaltering devotion to the cardinal principles for the defence of which he was formerly conspicuous, the passage of this resolution is most welcome. If the Senator would comply with the demand thus made upon him, we should be still more highly pleased. But we apprehend he will not do so. He has a pardonable liking for the place he fills; understands that he was elected to it for a definite term of years, and can be displaced only by action on the part of the body of which he is a member.

Last year, when the Legislature passed a similar resolution, Mr. DOOLITTLE admitted his honorable obligation to be true to the party by which he was elected; but denied that the resolution accurately expressed the judgment of the Republican party, or of the people of the State. He can hardly take that ground now. A new Legislature has been chosen, and his course was a prominent topic of discussion in the canvass by which that event was preceded. Not only the members of the party by which he was promoted, but the general current of opinion in the State is against him. But this will not induce his resignation. He will simply fall back upon his unconditional prerogative as a Senator of following his own judgment.

MR. RANDALL'S BILL.

The bill introduced into the House of Representatives by Mr. RANDALL of Philadelphia, (of which we gave a synopsis some days ago,) to gradually supersede the National Bank currency by an additional issue of legal tender notes, is attracting increased attention in Congress and in financial circles. The committee to which it was referred have reported favorably upon it, and it grows in esteem the more it is examined. The leading idea is to cancel all Bank notes that come into the possession of the government by giving greenbacks in exchange for them, at the same time passing a proportionate amount of national bonds held by the respective banks whose notes are thus redeemed, into a Sinking Fund, designed to extinguish the public indebtedness.

We never have been able to comprehend the policy of issuing government bonds, bearing interest; of allowing banks to deposit these as security for circulating notes, and then drawing interest on the notes themselves. The National Bank Notes are in credit mainly because of confidence in the national bonds hypothecated for their redemption. These bank notes occupy a place that might just as well be filled with greenbacks. If this scheme had been adopted the government would have saved annually the interest on so many of its bonds as are now enter into the the capital of the national banks, thus making a clear saving sufficient to liquidate the entire public debt in a comparatively short period.

The only substantial reason we ever heard assigned did not relate to the policy itself, but to extraneous circumstances. The domestic capitalists thought they had the government in their power, and dictated terms to suit their private aggrandizement; the government acquiescing because it did not see how it could do better.

Since then the case has bravely changed. The government is now master of the situation, and can do what its interests dictate. But, it will not do to forget that the government has no interest separate and apart from the masses of the people. It is apparent what effect the proposed measure will have in economizing the expenses of the Treasury Department. The saving will amount annually to a vast number of millions. What damage, if any, will result to private enterprise? It is difficult to see how any damage can accrue. The volume of the currency will not be diminished, nor will the reliability of it be lessened. All the effect, so far, would seem to consist in a saving of interest by the government, and a necessity laid on stockholders in the national banks to invest a portion, at least, of their capital, in some other way. Will this change in the form of investment create an unfavorable disturbance of the money market? It would seem that the natural effect must be to make money more abundant. The bankers who should receive greenbacks in exchange for their bonds, would not be likely to let them remain unemployed. Either they would loan them upon some kinds of real or personal security, or would expend them in enterprises of their own. In either event they would speedily flow into the ordinary channels of circulation.

The bankers are naturally opposed to the contemplated change. We do not blame them. Any other body of men, situated as they are, would object to being interfered with as strenuously as they do. Human nature is about the same in most men. If there is any difference it is a little more human in some than in others. The bankers have a "good thing," as the case stands. Employment, respectability and a comfortable measure of profits. No wonder they are content. Nor have we any antipathy to them or their calling. Banking is as laudable a pursuit as any other, a certain class of political economists, who take a narrow view of what constitutes production, and who are producers, to the contrary notwithstanding.

In financial circles in New York the measure is said to meet with disapprobation. This ought to be far enough, in itself, from determining the matter. On what ground is objection made? If there is real reason to fear the new movement would bring on a financial crisis, then it ought not to be ventured upon at present. As already stated, we do not see what tendency it can exert to that end. Panics are not easily created. Capitalists in New York have recently endeavored, by the combined use of prodigious sums, to manufacture a stringency that should send the current values down with a run; but their most skillful and industrious efforts ended in failure. When a man feels in every limb and articulation that he is strong, it is a hard task to make him believe he is weak and powerless. Much the same is it, when business men know they are rich and increased in goods, and able to meet all just demands upon them, to make them shake with apprehension over anticipated bankruptcy.

Still, we trust Congress will act circumspectly in this matter. So far as the government is concerned the advantages of the proposition are palpable enough. Let it next be certainly ascertained that the people are not to be seriously incommoded or exposed to heavy loss. When this point shall be satisfactorily settled, Congress cannot act too speedily.

THE Commercial gives the following account of the examination of its chief editor by the Investigating Committee at Harrisburg:

"He testified that, while he knew no fact that would positively prove it—he having seen no money change hands—it nevertheless was common rumor and generally believed that corrupt means were used in connection with the Senatorial election—and that he believed said rumor was true, because of what had been told him by gentlemen in whom he confided. As to the 'Inside View' letter, while it was the subject of informal conversation, no recorded testimony was taken, but we think no serious doubt was left in the mind of any one how the writer could probably be found out; and concerning the ground of the witness' belief that corrupt means had been used, no questions were asked, except as to personal knowledge. Two or three brief questions were put, and as many and as brief answers recorded, and there the examination ended."

The Harrisburg Telegraph gives this account of the examination:

"Mr. Brigham, the editor and publisher of the Pittsburgh Commercial, has been in attendance for several days, and has solemnly declared, before the committee, that he knows of no improper influence having been used to effect the election of United States Senator, and when he was questioned as to the authorship of several articles published in his paper, charging the members of the Legislature with corruption, he replied that he did not know the writer thereof. It appears from his own testimony, that as the editor of the Commercial, Brigham is not over vigilant."

PARTON'S essay upon Daniel Webster has fearfully excited the ire of New Englanders.

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

THE Harlem and Hudson River Railroad Companies having refused to sell through passengers on [illegible] company, and to carry freight [illegible] to it by the Central at way rates, the Legislature has stepped in. The Senate passed a bill unanimously to compel connecting roads to sell tickets, check baggage, and transport freight, without breaking bulk, to all stations at which trains stop. In case of a disagreement between companies, the State Engineer is to act as umpire, and an appeal from his decision is to lie to the Supreme Court of the Albany district, where it shall have preference over all other causes, no delays in transportation to be allowed while the appeal is pending. A refusal to comply with the decision is to subject the President and directors to a fine of $3,000 for each day's neglect while the case is pending, and after the decision of the Engineer in Court to a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding one year. The House will not be likely to hesitate in passing it. So an excellent example will be set to the effect that the public are the masters of the situation.

THE medical fraternity of Massachusetts have made a singular discovery. They find that the race of Yankees is rapidly dying out, the supply being cut short by American parents. Dr. Allen, of Lowell, writes an alarming letter, in which by statistics he clearly proves that the race is gradually and steadily decreasing. He says that the foreign element, about 20 per cent. of the population, produced one thousand more children in 1860 than all the Americans put together. He gives as a reason for this startling fact that foreigners are, as a general thing, anxious to rear large families, while Americans feel that it is not a calamity to have no children, and believe it unfashionable to have more than three at best.

AN oyster firm in Baltimore put up weekly one hundred thousand cans of oysters. These parties have purchased an island of several hundred acres, which lies in the Chesapeake, about seventy miles from Baltimore, and it is there that the business is prosecuted without much inconvenience from ice. At this establishment all the shuckers are white girls, and the wages they receive is more than that paid to ordinary laborers.

THE outgoing and incoming State officers of Iowa, and their deputies, recently held a social meeting at the Capitol, Des Moines, which wound up in a regular temperance revival. Every one present signed a total abstinence pledge to abstain forever from the use of all intoxicating drinks. We know a few officers of other States who might benefit themselves and their Commonwealths by following the noble example of the Iowaians.

IN 1865, the New York Tribune incurred aggregate expenses $646,107, netting $170,429. In 1866, its gross expenses were $885,158, with net income $24,259. Its recent enlargement increased its expenses very much. Last year it paid for editorial services $81,775; for correspondence $49,300; for telegraphing $58,776. It takes much to make a first class journal.

COL. THOS. A. SCOTT has hired the house of the late Lieutenant General, at Elizabeth, New Jersey.

—The Atlantic Cable has now been in operation just six months, and a dividend of ten per cent. is to be paid on account to the stockholders. This does not represent, by any means, the whole amount of profits. On the contrary, this monopoly, during the first six months of its existence, when the business done is probably a small fraction of the amount which will be done as time advances, has realized at the rate of twenty-five per cent. per annum. The men who prosecuted the enterprise against so many discouragements should, of course, be rewarded, but it is not agreeable for us on this side of the water to see English capitalists pocketing such large dividends at our expense. The newspapers are the main patrons of the lines, and the high tariff of prices falls with heavy weight upon them.

—The resolution of Col. Washburne, of Indiana, in Congress, providing for an investigation of O. W. Chilton, a member elect from Texas, was prompted by these facts: Gov. Hamilton was piloted through the rebel lines out of Texas by Captain Montgomery, a Texan in our service. The Captain subsequently fled to Mexico, when Hon. George W. Chilton, with a body of men, crossed the Rio Grande, kidnapped Montgomery, took him back across the river, hung him, cut of his arms, and sent the mutilated corpse to the town where he had resided, as was said, to show the fate of traitors. To this act, more than any other, Chilton owes his election.

—The following are the prices ranging in the Philadelphia markets: Apples 45 to 50 cents per half peck; butter, 55 to 60 cents per pound; cranberries, 25 to 28 cents per quart; eggs, 50 cents per dozen; roast beef, 25 to 28 cents per pound; surloin steaks, 25 to 30 cents per pound; mutton, 11 to 26 cents per pound; parsnips, 18 to 20 cents per half peck; potatoes, 25 cents per half peck; chickens, 30 to 35 cents per pound; ducks 16 to 18 cents per pound; geese, 15 to 18 cents per pound, turkey, 20 to 25 cents per pound; turnips, 12 to 16 cents per half peck; veal, 12 to 28 cents per pound.

A NEFARIOUS BUSINESS.—It is the richly freighted ship that is tracked by the robbers of the sea; and, on the same principle, it is the popular specific that the land buccaneers, called counterfeiters, select for their shining mark.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

Stand pre-eminent among the medicinal preparations in this country. The demand for them is something wonderful, unparalleled; hence the counterfeiters know full well that if they can impose their fiery fluids upon the people as that famous tonic, they can make fortunes by the fraud. They are now at work. Detectives are on the trail of some of them, and others have been already brought to book. Let the public second the proprietors in their efforts to baffle the reckless scoundrels who seek at once to poison the community and swindle the firm that has produced the finest Vegetable Bitters ever manufactured. Thinking to dodge the law, the counterfeiters are affixing to their bottles names resembling in orthography and sound that of HOSTETTER, such as "Hochstetter," "Hoofstetter," and the like. Will the public be kind enough to look to this, and to see also that the label is all right, with its vignette of St. George and the Dragon, and its tiny note of hand, signed "HOSTETTER & SMITH." The proprietors will do their part to protect the million from imposition, and they ask the million to be on the alert against the plotters against their health. HOSTETTER & SMITH.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

The Valparaiso Horror.

Our readers are already familiar with the particulars of the horrible murder recently commited in Valparaiso, Indiana. The Chicago Journal of Saturday contains the following particulars of the arrest of the butcher: The wholesale murderer of defenseless women, fortunately for the cause of justice, made his way to Chicago, and here speedily fell into the hands of our wide-awake police authorities, who, having previously obtained possession of his photograph and a description of his personel, were on the watch for just that kind of a wretch. The particulars concerning the arrest of Page and his transfer from Chicago to the jail in Valparaiso, are as follows:

The red-handed murderer, Chauncey F. Page, early on Wednesday morning walked into the office of the City Hotel, and with a somewhat trembling hand registered his name on the books as "C. F. Page, Dyer Station." He was shown to a room, and during the day kept very quiet, remaining most of the time in his room. Nothing strange or remarkable was noted by the landlord or the guests in his demeanor, and he attracted no special attention. Yesterday morning, however, he sallied out, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock, and, as if some mysterious and avenging power directed his footsteps, he approached the Central Station. While at some distance from the Station Page was seen by Superintendent Rehm, and as he passed the building the door was opened and Page, the murderer, was an arrested man. The prisoner was all of a tremble, and shook like one with the palsy. When interrogated with regard to his crime, he ejaculated, "For God's sake say nothing about it!"

Page was then searched and locked up—an officer being placed in the cell with him, to prevent his committing suicide, of which, from his actions there was great fear.

At three o'clock yesterday afternoon, an officer was sent to Valparaiso, with instructions to ascertain the location of the jail at that place, and meet Deputy Superintendent Nelson, at the depot on his arrival on the midnight train with his prisoner.

Shortly before ten o'clock a carriage was called, and Superintendent Nelson and his prisoner started from the station for the depot of the Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne Railroad—the ten o'clock train of which road carried them to the scene of the murderer's crimes, and, it is hoped, in the name of justice, the scene of its expiation.

So quietly was all this accomplished and so inviolate was the secret kept, that the indefatigable reporters of the city press remained in ignorance of the affair. But this morning all necessity of secresy having vanished, the veil was lifted.

The reason of the arrest being kept secret by the police authorities was a commendable one. It was feared that, owing to the excitement of the public mind, and the degree of horror which thrilled the community at the recital of the details of the tragedy, the wrath of the people would manifest itself in an attempt to lynch the prisoner should his presence in this city become known.

The Shamokin Coal Trade.

The Shamokin Herald, of the 11th instant, speaking of the coal trade in the Shamokin region says: The trade in this region still continues dull, though some of the collieries that were stopped last month expect to resume work again this week. From our exchanges throughout the entire coal regions, we learn that there is a general stagnation, and in most localities there is a much greater dearth of employment than there is in the Shamokin basin. It is hard to say what will be the state of the trade this winter; though if the weather continues as severe as it has been the past few weeks, the retail trade must continue brisk, and make a demand for domestic purposes; of this trade we are sure to get our share.

The Enterprise Railroad is being pushed rapidly, and is now completed within a mile and a half of Big Mountain. This will greatly increase and develop the business of our operations. Besides, it is confidently anticipated that the N. C. R. W. Co. will, during the year, form a junction with the Quakake Road at Mt. Carmel. This will not only send freight and passengers from New York to Lake Erie through Shamokin, but will give us a direct outlet to the New York markets for our coal. The competition thus raised between those roads and the Reading must certainly result to our advantages.

The statistics for the year 1866 show an increase of almost 100,000 tons over that of 1865. This has been accomplished in face of the great depression that has directly affected business for more than three months of the year. Had prices and demand remained as good as they were in the beginning of the year, our increase would have reached 150,000 tons. As it is, the improvement is such as to prove the steady growth in the business, wealth, and resources of the place, and give us new hopes for the future.

Execution of Convicts in Dauphin County.

The following shows the number of executions in Dauphin county since its formation:

July 14, 1798.—Jno. Hauer and Chas. M'Manus, for the murder of Francis Shirtz.

Dec. 6, 1806.—James M'Gowen, for the murder of Jacob Eshelman. Jas. Jamison was a short time afterwards executed for his participation in the murder of Eshelman.

August 8, 1818.—James London (negro), for the murder of his wife.

February 6, 1824.—Benjamin Stewart, (negro), for the murder of Ann Oberholzer.

August 25, 1854.—Courtland Charles Johnson, for the murder of his wife and Nathaniel P. Colyer.

May 21, 1858.—William Williams, for the murder of Daniel Henrich.

Charge of Adultery.

We take the following item in regard to Pithole from the Record of Monday:

"A suit came off before Justice Solley yesterday, in which Mr. L. C. Hart, proprietor of the North East House, caused the arrest of D. C. Graves, for adultery with Maria Stevenson. Mr. Graves was bound over in the sum of $500 to answer the charge at the next term of Court. Graves brings up in defense that he had sued Hart for $86, which was to be decided to-day; that he was told by Hart that he would have him (Graves) in Franklin jail; that for this reason the charge of adultery was brought up against him. This is Graves' defence, and the sympathies of the Court room appeared to be with him. He had no difficulty in getting the required bail."

From the Barnyard to the Altar.

The Steubenville Herald tells the following romance: "A beautiful young heiress, living in the western part of the 'State' of Columbiana county, whose father had forbidden the addresses of her lover, (a young gentleman from Canton,) went out to milk the other morning, but instead of doing that, threw down the bucket, jumped into a sleigh, waiting in the vicinity, went to Smith's Ferry, Pa, where the knot was tied, and soon after returned home—the father wondering all the time why Mary was so long milking. The beautiful heiress went out with a milk pail, and came back with a husband.

A New Fashion.

The fashions travel westward and we suppose this one will reach us after awhile. The last trick of our New York forgers is to open an office, advertise for boys, counterfeit the signatures of several business firms, bankers, etc., send the boys who apply for a situation, to different banks with the forged checks, and then if the game is detected to clear out, and leave the unsuspecting employee in the hands of the police. A German with half a dozen alias, and various disguises, has the greatest reputation for this sort of thing.

Accident.—The following is from the Chester county Journal: As Mr. Washington Hoskins, of West Pikeland, was returning from Cedar Hollow, with a load of lime, on Thursday, the 10th inst., when going down Little's Hill, in Charlestown township, the hill being very slippery, the wagon upset, and his son, a boy about sixteen years of age, being on the saddle horse, fell off, and part of the lime fell on him, breaking a leg and arm. The horses became detached from the wagon and ran about two miles before they were stopped. The boy was taken home. Dr. Fussel was called in, and set the limbs, and he is doing well.

Burial of Zook.—The remains of Abraham H. Zook, who was murdered near Vicksburg, Miss., about the first of November last, were interred at the Lancaster Cemetery on Monday. A large concourse of soldiers and sympathizing friends followed the body to the grave. No further information relative to his brother, Noah H. Zook, has been received. It is now certain that both brothers were murdered by their partners in business, Mississippians, who, after their bloody deed, fled with their ill gotten gains to Texas.

Killed.—The Meadville Republican says: "A brakeman, by the name of John Conner was killed at the Evansburg Station on the evening of the 15th inst. It is said that he was well filled with whisky, and while endeavoring to give signs to the engineer, he fell across the track, the cars passing over him severing both his limbs from his body. He was carried into the station and died in a few minutes. He was a resident of Canada West.

A Very Good Result from Very Good Causes.—The Lewisburg Chronicle gets off the following: Our jail is now tenantless. Two reasons may be assigned for this: 1st, No criminals in the county. 2d, When prisoners are incarcerated, they soon become disgusted and leave, the jail being adapted to the accommodation of those who can "break through and steal" a march.

Thrashed.—A Willow Grove, Montgomery county, lady, thinking she had occasion to thrash a certain lawyer, proceeded so to do. By a lucky chance for the lawyer, the fair one made a mistake and thrashed a companion of the legal gentleman. As a stick of wood was used the "companion" doesn't think he was honored by the damsel's choice.

Kicked to Death.—A little son of the Rev. A. D. Martin, of Fredonia, was a few days ago kicked in the side by a boy fifteen years of age, and died from the effects of his injuries, within twenty-four hours.

Burned.—The dwelling house of Wm. Sweeney, of Spring borough, was destroyed by fire last week. The family were absent at the time, and most of their furniture and clothing were lost.

Victims En Masse.—The Conneautville Record of last week contains nearly a column of marriages. The Erie Observer calls it the great matrimonial record of the north-west.

EDUCATIONAL.

School Statistics of Adjacent Counties—The Scarcity of Teachers—Proportion of Male and Female Teachers.

A week or two since we published some interesting facts and statistics from the report of the Superintendent of Common Schools of the State, Prof. Wickersham, relating mainly, however, to the educational interests of Allegheny county. We have room to-day to note a few of the facts embodied in the report as to the progress of common schools in adjacent counties:

Armstrong—Number of schools, 223; average number of months taught, 4.48; number of male teachers, 102; of female, 127; average salaries of male teachers, $30.43; of females, $28.68; number of male scholars, 5,801; females, 5,090; cost of teaching each scholar per month, $0.66; receipts for school purposes $36,292.09.

Beaver—Schools, 168; average of months taught, 5; teachers: male, 78, female, 104; average salaries of male teachers per month $35.71; of female teachers, $25.83; number of male scholars, 4,076; of female, 3,699; cost of teaching per scholar, per month, $0.73; receipts for school purposes, $33,512.36.

Butler—Schools, 214; months taught, 478; teachers—male 78, female 186; average salaries of male teachers $30.51 per month; females $24.52; male scholars 5,715; female 4,824; cost of teaching each scholar per month $0.62; receipts for school purposes $26,899.29.

Fayette—Schools 213; months taught 417; teachers—male 143; female 71; salaries of male teachers $32.80; of female $28.91; male scholars 5,847; female 4,884; cost of teaching each scholar per month $0.70; receipts for school purposes $30,667.70.

Lawrence—Schools, 142; months taught 582; teachers—male 61, female 133; salaries of male teachers $40.89; of female $27.65; male scholars 3,932, female 3,430; cost of teaching each scholar per month $0.71; receipts for school purposes $34,637.78.

Somerset—Schools 194; months taught 407; male teachers 126, female 68; salaries of male teachers $25 61; of female $21,38; male scholars 4,182; female, 3,594; cost of teaching each scholar per month $0,67; receipts for school purposes $24,605.95.

Venango—Schools, 194; months taught 5,24; male teachers 58; female 2,26; salaries of male teachers $51,52; of female $33,37; male scholars 4,346; female 4,076; cost of teaching each scholar per month, $1,02; receipts for school purposes $43,706,13.

Washington—Schools 274; number of months taught 5-50; male teachers 121; female teachers 136; salaries of male teachers, $36,23; of females $27,54; number of male scholars, 6,914; female 6,260; cost of teaching each scholar per month $0,77; receipts for school purposes, $59,817, 48.

Westmoreland—Schools, 2,92; months taught, 4,74; male teachers 150; female 1,44; salaries of male teachers $35,50; female $29,67; male scholars, 8,205, female; 7,050; cost of each scholar per month, 70; receipts for school purposes, $56,994.28.

THE SCARCITY OF COMPETENT TEACHERS.

One of the greatest evils affecting the Common School system of this State, referred to by Professor Wickersham, is the scarcity of competent and experienced teachers, mainly caused by inadequate compensation. It is stated, for instance, that in Adams county, while the schools are chiefly in charge of young and inexperienced persons, "some very good teachers refuse to teach because they can make more by working as common day laborers. A good teacher refused to teach last winter, because he was offered two dollars a day for making staves and shingles." The natural tendency is to increase the number of female and decrease the number of male teachers. There are now 8,707 of the former, and 8,134 of the latter; and eventually the work of education will probably devolve chiefly upon women, thus opening to them a wide field of employment for which they are in some respects even better qualified than men. It is curious to observe the marked difference between different counties in regard to the employment of male and female teachers. The German counties, as a rule, employ a majority of male and the counties occupied chiefly by inhabitants of English descent, a majority of female teachers. A few statistics will illustrate this statement:

German Counties.	Teachers. Male.	Female.
Berks	347	131
Lancaster	295	199
Lebanon	142	31
Lehigh	163	51
Montgomery	190	84
Northampton	179	49
York	248	112
	1,564	657

English Counties.	Teachers. Male.	Female.
Bradford	95	419
Chester	92	315
Luzerne	167	374
Susquehanna	70	360
Tioga	40	314
Wyoming	19	81
Cambria	43	128
	526	1,991

Thus, while seven German counties employ 1,564 male and 657 female teachers, seven English counties employ only 526 male and 1,991 female teachers. The small compensation paid will generally secure better female than male teachers, the average of $26,32 per month paid to the former being a much better compensation for female employment than the average of $34,30 per month paid to the latter for male employment.

To meet the difficulty of procuring competent teachers, Professor Wickersham recommends increased salaries, prolonged school terms, and an increased number of State Normal schools.

The normal school law of 1857 divided the State into twelve normal districts, and contemplated the erection of twelve normal schools, but only four are in operation, one having been established at Millersville, Lancaster county, in 1859; one at Edinboro, Erie county, in 1861; one at Mansfield, Tioga county, in 1862, and one at Kutztown, Berks county, in 1866. Other districts, however, will probably soon establish similar institutions.

Shocking Death.

The Harrisburgh Telegraph, in a letter from Hummelstown, contains the following:

An interesting little daughter of Valentine Blessing, Esq., of this village, was burned to death, one day last week under the following distressing circumstance: The wife of Mr. B., during a brief visit of five minutes to the house of one of her neighbors, returned to find her innocent babe in the parlor enveloped in a sheet of flames, holding a lighted candle still in its little hands, which was probably the cause of setting fire to her garments. The child lingered for some time, suffering the most excruciating pain, and finally death ended its sufferings. Drs. James Henderson and John Roebuck, two of the most experienced and learned men in the profession here, did all in their power to save the child, but their efforts were unavailing. We deeply sympathize with Mr. Blessing and family in this affliction, which has so suddenly fallen upon them.

MY POLITICAL PLATFORM.

Kind friends and patrons all, I ask your close attention,
I have a stock of Boots on hand, thousands of different sizes,
Which I can well afford to sell at the very lowest prices.
A lot of Boots and Shoes, of French and German leather,
Which none would be afraid to wear, in coldest winter weather.
My Ladies' Boots are of the best, it really is surprising,
That I can sell so very cheap, while prices still are rising.
My stock is of the very best the trade did ever produce,
My Shoes are far the cheapest since the prices I did reduce.
Then seek your own advantage and come to me and buy,
And when my stock is all sold out I'll get a fresh supply.

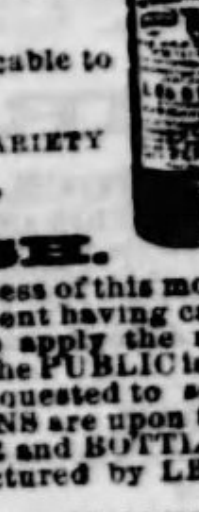
CELEBRATED
WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE



PRONOUNCED BY CONNOISSEURS TO BE THE "ONLY GOOD SAUCE" and applicable to EVERY VARIETY OF DISH.

EXTRACT of a LETTER from a MEDICAL GENTLEMAN at MADRAS to his Brother at WORCESTER, May, 1851:

"Tell LEA & PERRINS that their SAUCE is highly esteemed in India, and is, in my opinion, the most palatable as well as the most wholesome SAUCE that is made."

The success of this most delicious and unrivalled condiment having caused many unprincipled dealers to apply the name to SPURIOUS COMPOUNDS, the PUBLIC is RESPECTFULLY and EARNESTLY requested to see that the name of LEA & PERRINS are upon the WRAPPER, LABEL, STOPPER and BOTTLE.

Court of Oyer and Terminer.

TRIAL OF THOMAS SMITH FOR THE MURDER OF HENRY HEDDRICH.

In the Court of Oyer and Terminer, before Judges Stowe and Sterrett, on Monday forenoon, the case of the Commonwealth vs. Thomas Smith, indicted for the murder of Henry Heddrich, was taken up. The Commonwealth was represented by Colonel L. B. Duff, District Attorney, and John W. Taylor, Esq., and for the prisoner John M. Kirkpatrick, Thomas M. Marshall and John C. McCarthy, Esqs., were retained. The following jurors were selected:

R. F. Crawford,
Alex. Gilfillan,
Robert Glasscy,
James Marshall,
James S. Crawford,
Thomas J. Moore,
Ed. R. Burchfield,
Leander Wall,
John Dyer, Jr.,
Edwin Burchfield,
Thos. S. Waddle,
John Adams.

[There is a rather singular coincidence connected with this jury. Robert F. and James F. Crawford are brothers, residing in Richland township, and Edward R. and Edwin Burchfield also are brothers, the former residing in Fawn and the latter in Peebles township.]

The facts of the case, as developed by the evidence, were about these: The prisoner is a colored man, and was at the Pittsburgh Theatre with some acquaintances, on the night of the 23d of October last. Whilst there he had some words with a colored man named Noad Smith, and the prisoner made some threats about shooting. The difficulty was concerning some women who were in their company. After the performance was over and the parties had passed outside the building, the prisoner, who had been struck by some persons, approached Noad Smith, called him an ugly name, and asked if he had struck him. Prisoner then instantly, without waiting for a reply, drew a pistol and fired at Noad Smith twice, and as he fired the third shot, the deceased, Heddrich, who was employed at the Theatre as a musician, stepped between them, receiving the ball in his left side. Heddrich staggered back, cried out "I'm shot," and was assisted into Williams' saloon, opposite which the shooting took place. He was conveyed to his residence in Birmingham, and died in two or three days after. The conversation or difficulty in the Theater seemed to have ceased with the remark of the prisoner to Noad Smith that if he wanted anything of him he could have it outside. After they had passed out the prisoner was struck a blow by some person, causing him to stagger into the gutter, and immediately after this the shooting occurred. One witness testified that the quarrel in the Theatre was between Noad Smith and a young woman named Lizzie Price, and that no unkind words passed between the prisoner and Noad Smith. After the shooting the prisoner fled, running along Wood street to Liberty, and along Liberty to the corner of Hand, where he was captured with the pistol in his possession, by Emery Legard. Dr. James Kerr, who attended deceased in his last illness, testified that the wound was necessarily fatal, and that death resulted from hemorrhage, the cavity of the abdomen being found on the post mortem examination to be filled with blood. Officer Seth Wilmot, employed to keep order at the Theatre, testified to having heard the prisoner make threats to shoot the head off the "nigger" who had insulted him; that he afterwards saw him in the tombs, when he said that he did not shoot until he had been struck two or three times, and that if he had it to do over again, he would do the same thing; he expressed regret at having shot the white man, as he was not the man he intended to hit. This was the substance of the evidence adduced on the part of the Commonwealth.

For the defense Mr. Kirkpatrick opened. The shooting by the prisoner was admitted, as from the evidence adduced the fact could not be questioned. It would be shown that as the prisoner passed out of the Theatre he was struck by some person; immediately after received another blow from a second party, causing him to stagger against a woman who was in his company, and rallying himself, he fired the shots as stated. The prisoner labored under some difficulty from not having been able to secure the attendance of the colored man, Noad Smith, as a witness. This man, counsel stated, was one of the prisoner's assailants, and whom he intended shooting whilst smarting under the blows which he had received. The unintentional shooting of Heddrich had been the subject of painful regret, and to none more so than the prisoner himself. The only evidence offered by the defense, however, was in regard to character, and quite a number of witnesses were called who had known the prisoner for some eight months. They stated he was of peaceable disposition. He was in the employ of Mr. Graff, of Penn street, as a coachman, at the time of the occurrence.

Mr. Taylor first addressed the jury on behalf of the Commonwealth. He referred in eloquent terms to the peculiarity of the case. The prisoner was at the Theater in the enjoyment of the drama, and deceased also present pursuing his avocation. They were strangers, the former, perhaps little dreaming of the tragedy that was to be enacted and in which he performed so important a part, and the latter quite as ignorant that within a distance of one hundred feet from where he sat, contributing to the edification of the audience, he would be murdered, as murdered he has been. Under the law, where the intent was murderous, it mattered not who was killed, as in the case of a man mixing poison in a glass, and it is taken by a person for whom it was not intended, or where a man seizes an axe to kill a woman and kills the child in her arms, or, as in the present case, where the prisoner shot at one man and killed another. The prisoner testified, officer Wilmot had threatened to "blow off the head" of some person at whom he was offended, and it was in pursuance of this threat that he subsequently used his pistol. When in the lock-up, in reply to a remark of the officer, that if he had taken his advice this affair would not have happened, the prisoner said that "if he had to do it over again, he would do the same thing." He also said that he had not shot the man he intended to shoot. The prisoner's disposition was murderous, and although the shooting of Hedderich was not intended, under the law the prisoner should be held responsible. It did not appear that the attack, if any, which had been made upon him was followed up, or that at the time he fired his pistol he was in danger of great personal injury. In a word, nothing was shown to justify the use of a deadly weapon.

Messrs. McCarthy and Marshall followed for the defense. The jury were urged to take into consideration the prisoner's social condition, and the fact that he was friendless, without kindred in this community. Those who had known him during the brief period he had resided in the city gave him a good character. He had made his utmost endeavor to bring into court those who knew best what had occurred at the theater, but had failed, as also had the District Attorney. As to the provocation offered it was claimed to be sufficient. The prisoner being assailed by more than one the law would excuse him to some extent for the use of a deadly weapon. It is not claimed that he was entirely faultless in pulling out a pistol and shooting amidst the throng at the close of the performance at the Theatre, but that he was guilty only of manslaughter. Having been attacked, as he was, he had a right to suppose concert of action, and in what he did there were none of the elements which constitute murder in the first degree under the statute. He did not await the coming of the man whom he had threatened, and as he approached deliberately fired at him; but having been struck once, twice or three times, as appeared from the evidence, under the excitation of the moment, he approached Noad Smith, asked, "did you strike me?" and without waiting for a reply fired his revolver at him. In this there was no "lying in wait," neither was there "premeditation" in the eyes of the law.

District Attorney Duff closed the argument in the case. The fact that Henry Heddrich was killed by Thomas Smith, the prisoner, and also that the killing was felonious, having been admitted, the only matter for argument was whether the prisoner was guilty of murder in the first or second degree, the admission by his counsel implying that he was guilty of manslaughter at least.

The charge to the jury will be delivered to Judge Stowe this morning.

District Court.

Before Hon. Moses Hampton.

Benjamin Coursin vs. Charles Barnes. Action on a note for six hundred dollars, dated February, 1859, made by Samuel Church, at six months, payable to order of plaintiff, and indorsed first by Charles Barnes, whose name was erased, and then Charles Barnes and Benjamin Coursin. Verdict pro forma for plaintiff, subject to opinion of the Court in banc, on the question of law reserved.

Wm. C. Dunn vs. Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company. About a year since a wagon and horses belonging to the plaintiff were ran into at the crossing at Remington station, by a train on defendant's road, smashing the wagon to pieces, and killing one of the horses. The action was brought to recover damages. On trial at adjournment.

Court of Common Pleas.

Before Hon. Thomas Mellon.

Adam Raithel vs. John Knipschild. Action to recover money alleged to have been borrowed by defendant for the purpose of purchasing cattle. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for $131.

Michael Hartmeyer vs. Jacob Kiel, et. al., owners of the "Black Hawk" ferry boat, plying across the river between the Point and Saw Mill run. This was action to recover damages for negligence as common carriers in causing the loss of two horses and part of a wagon belonging to plaintiff, the negligence being alleged to consist in proper guards not having been provided on the ferry boat. On trial at adjournment.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

Before Hon. Edwin H. Stowe.

Commonwealth vs. John Stewart. Indictment, arson. This case being called on for trial, Mr. Swartzwelder, Esq., of counsel for the defendant, moved to quash the indictment, for the reason that it was found on the testimony of his wife, Jane Stewart, and another witness. Mr. S. argued that the wife was clearly incompetent to testify against the husband, and though there was another witness endorsed on the bill, it was not competent for the court to inquire as to whether the bill was found alone upon the testimony of the second witness, nor how far the evidence of the wife influenced the finding, the legal presumption being that the finding was the result of the testimony before the grand jury.

The Court held the matter over for further consideration.

United States District Court.—This Court met yesterday, Hon. Wilson McCandless on the bench. Sallie Chappel, of Bradford county, was brought up for trial on a charge of embezzlement of letters. A pardon for the accused, signed by the President, was produced, however, and the case did not proceed.

Daughter vs. [illegible]er.

Yesterday Mrs. Mary [illegible], residing on [illegible] Ninth Ward, near the Quarry street, in the [illegible] Union depot, appeared before Alderman Lynch and made an information charging J. Lynch, Michael McGraw, Mrs. J. Lynch and Mrs. Mary Mullen with assault and battery. It appears that the deponent is daughter of Mrs. Mary Muller, one of the defendants. For some time she has been very much grieved at the improper manner in which her mother has conducted herself, thinking that her deportment with the defendant Lynch was anything but becoming in a person of her years. The old lady, it seems, visits Lynch at his house and otherwise scandalizes her daughter. On Saturday the mother visited at Lynch's and the daughter went there also, to expostulate with her and persuade her back home. No sooner did Mary make her appearance there than she was set upon by the whole party who beat and abused her shamefully. It was for this that the information was made. The accused were arrested and held for a hearing.

Fall of a Scaffolding—Two Men Injured.

At Lafayette Hall, yesterday morning, an accident occurred, causing serious injuries to two workmen, from the fall of a scaffolding. Two carpenters, Thomas Thompson and Washington Moore, were engaged on a scaffold, "iron-clading" that portion of the building in the rear of the Wood street entrance; the structure gave way—it having been insecurely constructed—and the two men were precipitated a distance of nearly thirty feet to the first floor. They were speedily extricated by their fellow-workmen, and their injuries examined by Dr. Dickson. Mr. Thompson's right arm and head were considerably bruised, and it is thought he is injured internally. He was removed to his residence at Perrysville. Mr. Moore's left leg received a severe fracture, and his head was also injured. He was taken to his residence, in Lawrenceville, as soon as possible after the accident.

Case Dismissed.

Z. Rosenthal, a Russian peddler, who speaks very good German, we suppose, came to the Mayor yesterday and preferred a charge of assault and battery against John Bright, a clerk in the establishment of Messrs. Fleming, Torrence & Co., on First street. It is alleged that on the 16th inst., Rosenthal, who has been in the habit of dealing on a small scale at the house mentioned, went there to purchase a dozen tin plates, worth $2. He objected to the price, and demanded them at $1.75. Mr. Bright had been much annoyed by him on former occasions and told him to either pay the price required or put the articles down and go away. The customer persisted and the clerk took the plates away and pushed Mr. Rosenthal towards the door. One of the other clerks also assisted him in his exit. There was no evidence of anything like an assault in the premises and the case was dismissed at the cost of the prosecutor.

A Game of Bluff.

Bernard Rooney is a stranger in the city and on Saturday night was the occupant of a room attached to Dugan's oyster saloon, in the Diamond. Thos. Elliott is an employe at the saloon, and during the night, as Rooney alleges, he came into the room and took up a silver watch belonging to R— and examined it. The owner supposed he wished to see what time it was and thought little of the matter. In the morning, however, the watch was among the missing and Rooney asked Elliott concerning it. For answer the latter told him that if he didn't keep still he would "knock the face off him." Thereupon Rooney made information before Alderman Lynch, charging Elliott with larceny and surety of the peace. A warrant was issued.

Stealing a Ride.

On Sunday two young men named Jamison and Aiken, residing on the Chartiers Creek, were out sleighriding on the Steubenville pike. They stopped at a tavern to refresh the inner man, we suppose, and while they were in there, two other men, whose names were not known, came along and got into the sleigh and drove off. The original riders came out and immediately started in hot pursuit of the fugitives. They overtook them just as they had stopped at another tavern for drinks. The pursuers demanded the equipage, when the appropriators attacked them and beat them both severely. Jamison and Aiken, however, finally obtained possession of the turn out and made the best of their way out of the scrape.

Larceny of Clothes.

An Israelite, named Beggar, keeps a clothing store at No. 12 Penn street. On Saturday afternoon a crowd of men came into his store ostensibly to purchase a suit of clothes. While the proprietor was showing his stock to a portion of the crowd, one of the number seized a pile of "ready made" garments and rushed with them for the door. In his progress he dropped them all save one pair of pantaloons. With these he succeeded in getting away. Who he was, or whether he belonged to the party mentioned, is not known. The loser of the property made information before the Mayor against the unknown man, and efforts will be made to discover the thief.

The Soldiers' Monument.—The prospects of the Soldiers' Monument Association being successful in their undertaking, are very flattering. About one-half of the Ninth ward has already been canvassed, and nearly six hundred dollars realized. Three persons contributed nearly two hundred dollars of this amount. We are also informed that a series of entertainments has been decided upon—the first to be an "Old Folks Concert"—similar to the one given under the auspices of the Sanitary Commission some two or three years since.

The Chicken Larceny.—Patrick Finn, of Pitt township, charged by John Sullivan with the larceny of some chickens, had a partial hearing yesterday before Alderman Lynch. The principal fowl in the case was a game hen, and was produced in Court. The defendant alleges that the fowl belonged to him, and he could produce its parents in his flock. The deponent contended that the fowl was his, and he could produce its sisters. At this point the case rested until this afternoon at two o'clock.

A Muss.—Maria O'Neill came before Alderman Lynch, yesterday, and charged Jno. Cool and Catharine McKenna with assault and battery. She alleges that on Sunday Cool attacked her, striking her first with a bench and then with his fist, after which he kicked her. Meanwhile he called on Catharine to kill Maria, Catharine accordingly pitched in and pounded her severely. A hearing was had in the case and the parties held to bail for Court. They all reside in the Third ward.

Personal.—George W. Humbert, Esq., of the firm of Humbert, Lightner & Co., left this city yesterday for the island of Barbadoes, for the purpose of commencing boring for petroleum on a large scale. Mr. H. went to the island two years ago, prospecting for oil, and met with such great indications of the oleaginous that he came back to this country for the purpose of organizing a company to prosecute the work more thoroughly and extensively.

Taking Down the Bell.—Workmen were engaged yesterday in taking down the old bell from the cupola of the German Lutheran Church, at the corner of High and Wylie streets. It will be remembered that the church is no longer used as a place of worship, having been unfitted for that purpose by the sinking occasioned by the passage of the Steubenville Railroad tunnel under it. Quite a crowd had collected yesterday to witness the removal of the old bell.

Pleasant Invitation.—Thomas Carr and Robert Crawford reside at Oakland. A night or two ago, as Carr avers, Crawford came to his house and invited him to come out of the house and he would shoot him. Carr refused to come out until morning, when he made information for surety of the peace before Alderman Lynch. The case will have a hearing at two o'clock this afternoon.

A Larcenist Committed.—Jno. Reigner of South Pittsburgh, made an information before Justice Barker, on Saturday, charging Casper Felber with the larceny of $31.70. The accused was committed to jail for a hearing yesterday. The hearing was accorded and the accused confessed his guilt. In default of bail he was committed to jail for trial at Court.

Heavy Business.—Messrs. Robt. Woods & Co., successors to Black & Woods, wholesale grocers and dealers in produce and all kinds of foreign and domestic wines and liquors, No. 315 Liberty street, are doing a heavy business in spite of dull times. It is a house worthy of patronage and sustains a very high reputation in this community.

Surety of the Peace.—Mrs. Mary Graham, a lady residing in Oakland, made information before Alderman Morrow, yesterday, charging her husband, John Graham, with surety of the peace. It is alleged that the accused is in the habit of threatening his wife and family constantly with violence. A warrant was issued.

Finally Committed.—Mary Gowan, the nurse whose exploits in stealing all the clothing from an apparently dying woman, whom she had been employed to nurse, we have already recorded, had a final hearing before Alderman Lynch, yesterday, and was committed to jail for Court.

Track Clear.—We learn, by a telegraphic dispatch, received last night, that the snow has been entirely cleared from the track of the Pennsylvania Railroad, between here and Philadelphia, and that all the trains are running regularly.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, Jan. 21, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 136@136¾; Eighty-one bonds, 107¾; Five Twenties, old 107¾; Five Twenties, '65, 105⅜; Five Twenties, new, 104½; Seven Thirties, 104½; Michigan Southern R. R., 78; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 88⅞; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 95¼; Erie, Railroad, 64¼; Western Union Telegraph Co., 46¼; Chicago & Rock Island, 99; Chicago and North Western R. R., 41¾; do preferred, 79¼.

There was but little done in local stocks to-day. Bank shares are in more general request, and we have sales of Peoples' reported at 108; Bank of Pittsburgh at 69; M. & M. at 63¾@64; Exchange, 67½; Citizens' held at 65. There were also sales of Bridge Gas, Railroad, Grain Elevator, and municipal bonds reported at about former quotations. The National Refining & Storing Oil Company paid their stockholders a dividend of six per cent to-day, and 8¾ is reported as being offered for the stock.

For permanent investment, the new Allegheny Valley Railroad bonds are in request, and sales were made last week at 88, (ex-coupon.) These are the new first mortgage bonds on the road, and carry seven and three-tenths interest per annum, which at present prices, makes them a desirable investment, especially so in view of the flattering prospects of the road.

There were rumors of more failures yesterday, but we were unable to trace them to any reliable foundation.

—The impression that Congress will not restrict the currency contraction, as provided at its last session, appears to be gaining ground everywhere. It has long been apparent to all but speculators and debtors that a still more rapid contraction might be made, to the advantage of every solvent interest in the country. The daily reports of internal revenue and of customs duties make it apparent that from these sources the entire compound notes maturing can be paid off, if their holders decline, as they probably will not, to take gold-bearing stocks for them, and at the same time enable the Treasury to cancel four millions per month of legal-tenders. The payment or funding of $144,000,000 of compounds, and the retirement of $50,000,000 of plain legal-tenders will withdraw the basis of full $500,000,000 of bank credits, producing a national contraction which will give a very active year, especially to over-traders and speculators. In the last six months the Government has derived over $175,000,000 from internal revenue, an average since July last of $6,300,000 a week.

—Mr. Randall's bill, which substitutes a new issue of three hundred millions of legal tenders to take the place of the National Bank currency, and requires the banks to give up the bonds deposited as security for the circulation, and take in exchange therefor "greenbacks," is causing a good deal of talk in financial circles. The Chicago Tribune, referring to it, says:

> No doubt the great mass of the people would rejoice at the change, as the saving of interest (steadily accumulating each succeeding year) would enable the Government to make a proportionate reduction in the taxes and imports levied. In addition, a legal-tender currency would be obtained for one which is only a quasi legal tender, thus removing the vexed question of central redemption. In order to prevent the National Banks from purchasing other bonds, and organizing under the State laws, it would be necessary for Congress to keep on the books, the acts taxing all State bank notes out of existence. This would have to be done most unquestionably, or the country would be again flooded with a miscellaneous assortment of "wild cats" such as made up our currency previous to the adoption of the national system. The change proposed by Mr. Randall would also give the people seventy-five millions more currency than they now enjoy, as under the present system the banks are obliged to keep this amount of legal tenders as a reserve for the redemption of their circulation—thus relieving the stringency now prevailing throughout the country, caused by Mr. McCulloch's contraction policy.

—Says the New York Tribune, of Saturday: As financial affairs now stand, prices may be kept steady for a while by courage, capital, and adroit manipulation, but the break-down can only be postponed, not escaped from. Those who remember the course of prices when the currency was first degraded by the use of legal tender money will recall the fact that prices did not then advance suddenly. On the other hand, there was quite an extended interval between the first issues of paper and the strong upward movement in prices of stocks and commodities. So at the present time the decrease of legal tenders does not at once precipitate the return to natural prices as fast as many expect, but the final result is no less certain. Just now there is an enormous "bull interest" in stocks and commodities, able and willing to make any sacrifice of capital to postpone losses in whatever they own or may be carrying on credit, at higher prices; and this it is which counteracts in a great degree the swift movement of prices downward. But none of the present expedients to avoid the operation of natural financial laws can have anything but a temporary effect, and prices are liable at any moment to move as rapidly downward, under the combined effect of legislation and the withdrawal of legal tenders, as they moved upward when these two causes were set in motion in the direction of expansion. Many articles of produce have taken long strides downward—cotton and hog products, for instance—and everything else will not fail of getting its turn to move down to gold prices, taking the markets of the world as the standard of permanent value. The present is a good time "to buy money" which is steadily advancing in its power to buy everything else, and to owe as little as possible in any direction.

—Advices from Washington show that we have raised over $185,000,000 from internal revenue in the six months and a half which have elapsed since the commencement of the current fiscal year, July 1, 1866. This gives an average weekly revenue from excises alone of nearly $6,300,000, or equal to a yearly aggregate of about $328,000,000, against the estimate of $285,000,000 for the whole year made by Commissioner Rollins in his last annual report. It will be remembered that the official returns of the aggregate receipts from excises for each of the last fiscal years were as follows: 1864, $117,145,748 52; 1865, $211,129,520 17; 1866, $310,906,984 17.

There are sixty-five car loads back liable to come in at any moment, and business drags heavily. Sheep are scarce, and prime sell as high as 8@8½c, the latter for extra. Swine sell in quantity at 7@7½c for live, and 9@9¾c for dressed.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, January 21, 1867.

The produce markets were again very dull to-day, there being but very few transactions in any of the leading commodities, excepting in a regular jobbing way. The recent heavy snows have temporarily deranged our railroad communication, and in addition to preventing country merchants from coming to the city, and delaying mails, our merchants experience great difficulty in making shipments.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and steady but unchanged; we continue to quote, in the absence of sales, at $2,55 to $2,80 for No. 1 Spring, and $2,85 to $2,90 for prime Winter. Oats dull but unchanged, with a supply largely in excess of the demand; we note small lots, in store, at 52 to 53. Sale of 1 car Prime Rye at $1,21, and 1 do do at $1,22. Corn is dull, and Ear may be quoted at 68 to 70, on track.

FLOUR—The market is dull but unchanged. We continue to quote at $12½ to $12¾ for good to choice Spring Wheat; $13,50 to $14,50 for Winter Wheat; and $16 to $17 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is quoted at $8, and Buckwheat Flour is very dull, and cannot be quoted above $3,50 per cwt, in small lots.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quoted at 12½ for Shoulders, and 17 for Sugar Cured Hams. No movement in Bulk Meat or Mess Pork. Lard is steady at 12¾ to 13 for prime kettle rendered. Dressed Hogs dull but unchanged—sales to packers at 7½, and in a retail way at 8.

HAY—The receipts continue comparatively light, but there is no improvement in the demand. We continue to quote fair to prime baled at $20 to $22, on track—sale of 3 cars common—to be used for packing—at $16.

MILL FEED—Middlings may be quoted at $1,80 to $1,90, on track. Sorts at $1,15 to $1,20, and Oil Meal at $2,20 to $2,25—demand light, and supply limited.

APPLES—Quiet but steady with regular sales, in store, at $3,50 to $4,50 per bbl, for fair to choice.

POTATOES—No improvement in the demand and the market continues dull, with small sales of prime Peach Blows at 90c.

BEANS—In fair demand and prime small white (new crop) may be quoted at $2,75 to $3 per bushel—mostly at $2,75.

BUTTER—Continues very dull with a supply largely in excess of the demand. We can report sales of Roll at 28 to 32 for common to prime.

EGGS—In better demand and fresh packed are held pretty firmly at the advance, 32 to 33.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in demand at $2,50, and but little offering, while in Clover or Timothy, there is not enough doing to establish quotations.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, January 21, 1867.

CRUDE—The market presents no new characteristics worthy of special notice. We can report a sale of 137 bbls Smith's Ferry, at 7½, packages returned, or 12½, packages included, at the option of the buyer; and 160 bbls at 12½, packages included. For spring delivery, there is nothing doing whatever, as both buyers and sellers seem averse to contracting so far ahead, preferring rather to take the chances of the market. We hear of offers to buy at 8 to 8½, and offers to sell at 9. There is at this time no stock in this market, excepting what is in the hands of refiners and speculators, and the latter, as a matter of course, are not offering to sell at current quotations.

REFINED—There is still considerable inquiry for bonded oil, but the extreme views of holders has a tendency to retard operations. Those of our refiners who are disposed to contract ahead have already sold about all they care about, and consequently, our brokers experience considerable difficulty in finding parties willing to sell. We can report sales of 1000 bbls, for March delivery, in Philadelphia, at 30½; 500 for same month, at same price; 1000, for April, at 31, and 1000 more, for same month, and at same price. For spot oil, there seems to be no demand, and the fact that the inquiry is all for future delivery, shows that the present movement is entirely speculative. Free oil is quiet and unchanged; standard brands may be quoted at 43 to 45, according to quantity.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day—all from Smith's Ferry.

RIVER NEWS.

There is nothing transpiring at the levee worthy of notice. Business is wholly suspended, and there is but little prospect at present of an early resumption of navigation. The weather is not as cold as it was last week, and a good deal of snow has fallen during the past forty-eight hours.

The wharfboat of the Pittsburgh and Parkersburg Packet Company is lying high and dry, just above the Manchester Dry Dock. They will suffer no damage however, and when the river rises sufficiently, will float back to their old places again.

Says the Louisville Journal, of Friday: The Underwriter got up steam and towed the Argonaut No. 2 over this side. Both stopped at the foot of the canal. The Argonaut does not seem to be sprung much and will yet do good service.

The New Orleans Picayune says:

> The destruction of the steamboat Fashion by fire, and the loss of life upon that occasion, has been the cause of a closer scrutiny on the part of Government officials, as to the means employed for guarding against similar disastrous accidents. A report was made yesterday to the surveyor of the port, and by him transmitted to the collector, against the steamboat Starlight, which arrived at our levee loaded with cotton, but not protected from sparks, according to the report of the inspector, and the covering required by section 5, of the act of July 25, 1866. The inspector says that there was a cover on the top of the bales, extending to the guards; but on the main and forward deck there was no attempt to cover; that the cover on the guards was merely on the top, and did not protect the ends of the bales, either in board or out, while the law requires a complete covering.
>
> In conclusion, Mr. Miller the inspector, says:
>
> "The Captain declares that his cotton was covered. Now, if the mere spreading the tarpaulin on the top of a pile of cotton is what the law means by a complete covering, then the boat is right and the law is inoperative. But I hold that the covering should be complete, and should embrace the ends of the bales as well as the top of the pile. The Fashion, you will find, was burned by fire commencing on the end of the bale, and was not seen by the mate in time to put it out. The law, if enforced, would have reached it."

The St. Louis Democrat says:

> It may not be generally known at this time that the railroad on the bank of the Missouri river will very shortly be completed from St. Joseph to Omaha, a distance of about 250 miles by river. The completion of this road ends the line of packets running for years between the points named, in connection with the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad. We are of the opinion from what we learn, that small steamers and a packet line, will never run again; in fact, that they will shortly be offered for sale by Capt. Rufus Ford, referring in fact for Nathan Thayer, John Brooks and John L. Lothrop, of New York or elsewhere.

A case of five years' standing cured by

Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup:

PITTSBURGH, January 11, 1858.

DR. KEYSER—My wife has been afflicted with a cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP. I bought, the first time a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine myself to a cold and cough. The medicine cured me by taking one dose. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire to do so.

WM. WILSON, Alderman, Fifth Ward.

PITTSBURGH, April 24, 1857.

READ THE TRUTH.—DR. KEYSER:—I have a daughter who has taken several medicines for a bad cough without benefit, among them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I purchased from you a bottle of your Pectoral Syrup and before she had used half a bottle she was relieved. The second bottle cured her entirely of her cough.

JOHN DARIN, Robinson Street, Allegheny.

PITTSBURGH, December 31, 1856.

A GREAT CURE BY DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP. I live in Peebles township, Allegheny county. I had a cough and spitting, which commenced about the 4th of February last, and continued eighteen months. I employed the best physicians in the country, and my cough continued unabated until early in November. At that time I was advised to try your Pectoral Cough Syrup; which I did, and after I had taken two bottles, I was entirely free from the coughing and spitting. I had despaired of ever getting well, and I think that it should be known that this valuable remedy will do for others what it has done for me.

JOHN C. LITTLE. Witness R. M. KERR. Peebles township.

PATTON TOWNSHIP, April 14, 1858.

WONDERFUL CURE.—Some time ago an old neighbor of mine [illegible]

DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP IN BLAIRSVILLE.—Please send me another supply of your valuable Pectoral Syrup. A most everybody around us has the cold and are inquiring for "Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup." We have sold sixteen bottles the last week, and we have applications for more. [illegible]

Yours, respectfully, J. S. WATTERSON & SONS.

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio, March 16, 1860.

I have used Dr. Keyser's Cough Syrup for a bad cough of several years standing and can certify that it is the best medicine for the same that I have ever taken. [illegible]
